

Secretary

Estenia Gomez Elisevich, Academic Advisor I, Center for Latino/a and Latin American Studies

Since joining LFSA in 2021, I have observed our positive impact on the campus culture. I align with the LFSA mission to build an inclusive community and support Latino/a/x staff, faculty, and students at Wayne State. Serving as Secretary for the Latinx Faculty and Staff Association would allow me to contribute actively to this mission. I have experience with secretarial duties since joining the Warrior Moms Executive Board as secretary. I find the job manageable and integral for the functioning of an EEG.

I am now prepared to join the LFSA Executive Board and showcase my skills and passion for the Latino/a/x community. I stand firm that everyone deserves access to equitable resources, experiences, and opportunities. To achieve that, I understand the importance of amplifying Latin voices and addressing the unique challenges faced by our community in higher education. Through my involvement in campus committees and programming at the Center, I have developed skills that will be useful to LFSA. Some skills include meeting deadlines, working with different groups, organization, and leadership skills. I am very excited about this new chapter of LFSA and am committed to supporting our efforts and mission.
