

Engagement and Outreach Officer

Veronica Beltran, Assistant Director of Student Engagement and Culture, Law School

Why I want to serve in this position: I am interested in serving in the position of Engagement and Outreach Officer. I am interested in serving because I want to contribute back to LFSA which has given me so much support since my beginning at the university. I am also interested in implementing new ideas to the way we organize our events and carry out outreach to other partners within the university and outside.

I believe that I am a suited fit for this position because I have experience in outreach and organizing events. My experience in outreach stems from my roots as a community organizer and student leader, up until now as an advisor to many student organizations, a board director for a community park, and within my position in Student Affairs at the law school.

Along with these roles comes experience with event organizing. I have organized events at the law school, within the university, and in various communities ranging from Holland, MI to Southwest Detroit.
